A serious chamber music program paired with the fun of a Vermont summer camp

PRELUDE - A special session for young chamber musicians

At Point CounterPoint, we believe that chamber music inherently provides important musical and life lessons for all young musicians.

Chamber music:

- ♪ Emphasizes teamwork
- ♪ Gives each individual voice the opportunity to be heard
- ♪ Fosters independent problem-solving

We also believe that young musicians benefit from a serious chamber music program that is balanced with traditional camp activities. At Point CounterPoint, our non-music activity time is an important part of the whole camp experience. We find our activities enhance the intimately social nature of chamber music.

The camp's excellent holistic care of the entire kid is so obviously the priority, and the end result is so clearly a success.

To say our son's music teacher was blown away would be an understatement. Our son's quantum growth and musical maturity in just 3 weeks was astounding.

After his PCP inspiration he is opening that case rather more diligently and dare I say, even with unprecedented enthusiasm. Thanks again for everything!"

"My student returned from 3 weeks at PCP with a renewed commitment and focus.

Thank You!"

Music Teacher

Prelude is a six day camp for strings and piano students ages 8-13 designed to introduce both a chamber music experience and a short time away from home. No audition is required.

Those with no ensemble experience, as well as more advanced players, participate in chamber groups and chorus. Each camper receives a private lesson during the week to help with chamber music repertoire.

Prelude starts on Monday at 11:30am and ends Saturday afternoon with a final concert.

"PCP may have made this summer the most inspiring of my life.

Music is now a necessity in my life. I learned new ways of communicating with members of a chamber group, new ideas about viola techniques, new practicing strategies, and even how to kayak! "
